Schwartz Center Rounds

Special Valentine's Week Topic:

“Work/Life Balance: Can you deliver compassionate care to both your patients and your spouse/family?”

February 08, 2010

12:00-1:00 pm

Chestnut Conference Room 1A & 1B

Facilitator: Randolph Peto, MD

Program Goal

The goal of this program is to support and advance compassionate health care in which caregivers, patients and their families relate to one another in a way that provides hope to the patient, support to the caregivers and sustenance to the healing process.

Learner Objectives

By participating in this continuing education program, the attendee should be able to:

- Describe a critical element that enhances the relationship and understanding between patient and caregivers.
- Identify patient and provider characteristics and behavior that impede or foster compassionate care.
- Explain the value of communications among health care professionals, patients and families for decision-making, intervention and support.

Each Schwartz Center Rounds session begins with multidisciplinary clinicians presenting a challenging and interesting patient situation.

Risk Management – These credits are appropriate for risk management study.
